

Hello, welcome to Tony Tascioglu's personal wiki collection!

This site is my public knowledge base for everything from Linux, to blog posts and ramblings and random reviews, notes and comments. I hope that this is interesting and fun for those curious and interested in computers and technology.

If you came here from somewhere else and you're searching for my portfolio/resume site, please visit <https://tonytascioglu.com> instead.

History This is over the 5th major revision for this site. The old wiki is still online at <https://mw.tonytascioglu.com>, but is no longer maintained.

You can go back on technotony.info with Wayback machine for cringe. I've also had YouTube videos since 2013, though I've taken many of the ones down.

WARNING: If you are still browsing this site via <https://technotony.info> or <https://techytony.com>, please update your bookmarks!

Either of those domains may stop working at any time. If you find any dead links that have yet to be updated, please email me.

Discussion

Due to spam bots on the main page, discussion is NOT allowed on this main page. Feel free to comment on actual other pages though.

For general discussion and questions, please post to discussion

Due to ongoing spam, I have enabled captchas on discussion posts. If you have JS enabled, you won't see it at all. If you disable JS, you just need to type out the 5 letters. Hopefully this limits spam without being intrusive. Thanks for your understanding.
